

What do Australians think about USA, Indonesia & the World?

The Lowy Institute's 2006 Public Policy Poll (Melbourne Launch)

This Friday 6 October

The results of the first Lowy Institute Poll in 2005 caused a media shockwave as Australians expressed doubts about the role of the United States in Australian and global affairs.

Asialink and the Lowy Institute invite you to the Melbourne launch of the 2006 Lowy Institute Poll. Join Executive Director Mr. Allan Gyngell as he presents the results of the poll and takes questions on its meaning and implications.

Surveys were conducted in both Australia and Indonesia this year, and along with familiar questions on the United States, the Middle East, and a range of current global issues, the spotlight also turned on relations between Australia and Indonesia.

In a panel discussion facilitated by
Mr. Ray Cassin, Opinion Editor of The Age,
Professor Tim Lindsey of the Asian Law Centre and Mr. Earl Irving, US Consul General, will discuss Australian and Indonesian perceptions of the United States, the world and each other.

WHEN: 1 to 2pm this Friday 6 October

WHERE: Yasuko Hiraoka Myer Room, Level 1, Sidney
Myer Asia Centre, University of Melbourne
