Asialink are pleased to partner with Experimenta Media Arts to present Selectively Revealed, an exhibition of twelve Australian media artworks curated and presented as part of Asialink's Touring Exhibition Program. For 21 years Asialink has worked to initiate cultural and artistic exchange between Australia and the countries of Asia. Their consistent aim is to promote cultural understanding, information exchange and artistic endeavour across the region.

During this time Asialink has transformed public spaces, exhibition venues and corporate environments into captivating, interactive, and thought provoking destinations. Experimenta has for 25 years presented exhibitions and commissioned artworks confirm Australia's place at the forefront of technical and artistic innovation.

The list of artists is impressive: Peter Alwast (NSW), Catherine Bell (VIC), Julia Burns (NSW), Penelope Cain (NSW), Christopher Fulham (ACT), Isobel Knowles & Van Sowerwine (VIC), Anastasia Klose (VIC), Jess MacNeil (NSW), Angelica Mesiti (NSW), Ms&Mr (NSW), Anne Scott Wilson (VIC) and Michael Zavros (QLD). Providing an incredible opportunity for the 12 Australian artists participating, Selectively Revealed investigates the blurry line between the public and the private in artistic practice. Employing a variety of screen and contemporary video-making techniques, each artist in the exhibition chooses precisely what - or what not - to reveal about those around them and themselves

Selectively Revealed will tour across Asia launching in Korea: 26 October – 11 December 2011 at the Aram Art Gallery, Seoul; then part of the Jakarta Biennale at the National Gallery of Fine Art 15 December 2011 – 15 January 2012; then onto Taiwan: 11 February – 13 May 2012 at the National Taiwan Museum of Fine Arts, Taichung with the final leg of the tour in Thailand: 4 June – 21 July 2012 at the Chulalongkorn University Art Space, Bangkok.

Sarah Bond, Director Asialink Arts says of Selectively Revealed; "We have seen record breaking audience attendance and engagement for Australian digital art over the past year and expect that working with Experimenta will help to further promote cultural exchange in the region."
